BAKER-VANDERBILT ROMANCE
BEGAN IN DIVORCE CAPITAL

The recent marriage of Raymond T. Baker and Mrs. Alfreda Gwynne Vanderbilt was the culmination of a romance that had its beginning several years ago in America's divorce capital.

When Mrs. James Hollis McKim, a few years ago, was making her six months' stay in Reno to perfect the basis for her contemplated divorce from the Philadelphia doctor, she met Raymond T. Baker, then warden of the Nevada state prison.

It was then noted how fascinated was the handsome young Nevada by the charms of the wealthy daughter of Colonel Isaac Emerson, famous as the "Bronco Selter King."

But the beautiful Mrs. McKim's hand was promised to Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt. Baker loved from a distance.

When Mrs. McKim received her decree, she journeyed to Hawaii. On the wharf at San Francisco to bid her good-bye and, later, to welcome her home, was Baker—with a handsome bouquet of western blooms in his hand.

Mrs. McKim went east and became the bride of Vanderbilt. She became the mother of two of his children. Then came the Lusitania disaster which left her a widow.

Last month Mrs. Vanderbilt became the bride of Baker, now director of the United States mint. The couple have been honeymooning through the western states, where they first met. Baker is renewing old acquaintances and, at the same time, inspecting the institutions under his control.

child welfare drive was settled in the affirmative, Mrs. Harry Burnette, Mrs. Sterling Lamson, and Mrs. Rogers, of St. Elmo, being appointed to represent the chapter.

Announcement was made that work in the St. Elmo Red Cross will be continued.

It was announced that the chapter will serve refreshments Wednesday on the Dixie highway.

Recent arrivals at Signal Mountain hotel are: Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bridges, of Pine Bluff, Ark.; Mrs. R. T. Brown, of New Orleans; Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Montgomery, of Greenville, Miss.; G. F. Archer, of Greenville; Mrs. J. M. High, and the Misses High, of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Henry, of Atlanta; J. W. Newton, of Forsyth; W. C. Thomas, of Fort Smith, Ark.

At the meeting held Monday by the Red Cross circle of the Lookout Mountain club at the club-house, it was decided to suspend work until after the August allotment is received at headquarters. There was a good attendance at Monday's meeting, presided over by Mrs. W. B. Swaney, and bandaged to the number of 260 were folded.

Letters and cards received from local delegates attending the conference at Blue Ridge, N. C., this week contain expressions of enthusiasm for the place and everything. It is understood that special measures connected with the war fund drive that will be launched in the near future by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. will be taken up by workers from both associations at Blue Ridge this week. Miss Elizabeth McFarland, executive of the south central field, and well known in Chattanooga, is at Blue Ridge at this conference.

The Chattanooga Y. W. C. A. sent ten delegates, and the association, which was recently organized at Rossville, sent five.

WHAT SHOULD BE DONE WITH PROBLEM OF CATS?

Miss Gertrude Wright, city garden director, is constantly in receipt of appeals from patriotic gardeners and poultry raisers praying for relief from various pests that threaten destruction to their careful work. Usually it is the problem of friend neighbor's chickens, but now a new menace has arisen. Miss Wright has accordingly written the following public letter on behalf of a Highland Park lady:

"What should be done with the stray cat? If it is of any advantage to humanity or any pleasure, let us protect and provide for it; if not, what?"

"A lady in Highland Park, having a patriotic spirit, made four settings of eggs as a means of aiding the government in food production. She has now only one chick to show as the result of her efforts."

"Eat the best and be fat and happy. Enjoy life while you live for you'll be a long time dead."

"Man wants but little here below—except when it comes to a matter of eating, and then he wants plenty of it and of the very best, too."

"Every wife knows that our groceries fill the bill in every particular and that they are fresh, pure, wholesome and cost less."

"THE OLD GOD."

Old Ireland, old Ireland, Emerald Isle and all.
You know the little people, you hear the bannocks dripping red?
Do you want your tale a Belgium, a Serbia dripping red?
Your womanhood a horror, your babies better dead?

Old Ireland, old Ireland, my confidence in you is like your northern boundary—rugged, strong and true.
Where mighty Giants' Causeway swings outward to the sea.
Or where the songbirds make their home, by lakes of Killarney.

Old Ireland, old Ireland, the men of your strong race
Have never shown the feather white, or worn the bit and trace.
And spite of all the motherland, even at her very worst,
Has never left you bound and gagged and blighted and accursed.

This is no time for mincing words; you know what you will get—
A place among the nations you've never fitted for.
A by-word and a hissing for ages yet to be:
A blot upon the Shield of Peace—and such is not for thee.

otism by their interest in food production. The rains of last week have been of unspeakable value to this community, and planting of fall gardens can continue with confidence of a profitable yield.

Since so many of the summer vegetable were lost on account of the drought, there is a great necessity for larger and more fall gardens.

Miss Maude Guthrie will hold a meeting at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the Hoover kitchen of the chamber of commerce. The subject of the evening will be "The Canning of Food." The meeting will be held at 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning at the Main Street school, in charge of Mrs. J. S. MAY ENLARGE CHICKAMAUGA;
15,000 ENGINEERS MAY COME

Varied Developments Predicted For Federal Reservation—More
Water From Green's Lake and Possible Plant at Crawfish
Springs—Two More Cantonment Units May Be Built at Once.

Chickamauga may be enlarged. It is officially stated that the war department is considering an extension of the reservation for some distance to the south of the present borders. This is made more feasible by the prediction that Camp Forrest is to be made a concentration point for some 15,000 engineers. There are already approximately 1,000 engineers, including officers, at the park, and it is rumored that two more cantonment units are to be constructed in the near future.

If the government purchases more land to be added to the reservation it will probably be on the southern side of the camp near the Central of Georgia railroad, and will probably take in something like a square mile. The camp is at present about four miles from the north side to the south and the greatest measurement from east to west is about three miles.

If the 15,000 engineers are stationed here, the infantry camps will be turned over to them while the remaining sections of the camp will be devoted to the medical corps. However, it is thought by some of the high military officials at the camp that the present facilities for drilling at the camp are entirely inadequate and that if the large number of engineers are brought here, more drilling ground will have to be added. This matter is now being worked out by the war department.

Water Supply.
If the camp is extended on the southern side near Chickamauga, Ga., it has been thought that a water plant would be installed at Crawfish Springs and that in this way an abundance of water could be supplied for the entire southern section of the camp. However, it is probable that the 5,000,000 gallons of water a day which has been provided by the purchasing of two important supplies recently will solve this problem.

It has been a well-known fact among the Chattanooga people interested in the future of Chickamauga park that the shortage of the water supply has been the main drawback at the camp. However, recently the government has taken over the Ridgedale pumping station and the Green's Lake club. The Ridgedale pumping station alone will pump something like 3,000,000 gallons of water a day from Ridgedale to Chickamauga.

Need Water for Roads.
An abundance of water is needed at the camp to carry on the training in the proper way. A most important thing which has been greatly neglected on account of the shortage of the water supply at the fort is the road watering. The roads are very dusty and when the soldiers are on a long drill or march the dust clouds are most irritating. It is hoped that by the additional supply of water the roads can be watered daily. The grass has also been neglected a great deal owing to the shortage of water, and the sewage system has also been greatly affected by the shortage.

ON ST. ELMO AVENUE

Machine Driven by Miss Hilda Milligan Seriously Injures J. B. McAllister, Jr.

J. B. McAllister, Jr., aged 13 years, is suffering from serious injuries received Monday afternoon, when he was run over by an automobile driven by Miss Hilda Milligan. The accident occurred on St. Elmo avenue. A front wheel of the auto passed over the lad's back and a rear wheel passed over his chest. Young McAllister was picked up and carried by Miss Milligan to his home, 216 West Thirty-ninth street, where he received medical attention.

He is internally injured, and, while his condition is regarded as critical, hope is entertained that he will recover.

Military Men to Dine With Auto Club Tonight

An informal but genuinely friendly welcome to Chattanooga will be extended to the new officers in command of Fort Oglethorpe, Camp Forrest and Camp Greenleaf, by citizens of Chattanooga at dinner at 7 o'clock tonight at the Hotel Patten. In the case of Col. Lockett, who is in command of Fort Oglethorpe, as well as of the old Eleventh cavalry, which has been looked upon as Chattanooga's regiment, it will be in the nature of a welcome back home. According to the citizens who have had the pleasure of meeting Col. Munson, commanding Camp Greenleaf, and Col. G. E. Edgerton, commanding Camp Forrest; Lieut. Col. Mathewson and Maj. Elliott, of the engineers; Lieut. Col. Boice, of the Eleventh; Col. Brook, of Camp Greenleaf; Maj. C. S. Rigley, cantonment quartermaster, and his assistant, Maj. Keene, it will not be difficult to "adopt" them as Chattanoogaans at the dinner tonight.

In accordance with the custom of the Chattanooga Automobile club in planning the dinners for officers at the park, no set program of speeches has been arranged. The entertainment committee, of which John E. Lovell is the chairman, feels that the officers are under a heavy strain continually and should not be subjected to a lengthy verbal artillery attack. The whole object of the committee's program is to permit the officers to meet the civilians on a friendly informal basis in the same manner in which they would be their guests of their friends at a private dinner party. Over sixty civilian acceptances have been received. A popular priced dinner charge is made to the civilians attending the dinner.

NO ACTION TAKEN ON POLITICAL RESOLUTION

Labor Council Thinks Declaration of Partisanship Not Desirable.

Despite the efforts of labor officials from Knoxville to pass a resolution supporting Senator Shields' candidacy, endorsing his record, and condemning Gov. Rye's action last year in sending a body of state rangers here during the textile workers' strike, the Trades and Labor council of this city declined last night to take any action either supporting or condemning either candidate.

The resolution, which was adopted in Knoxville Saturday night, was presented by A. J. Briley, a member of the Knoxville Textile Workers' union, and was as severe in its denunciation of the governor as it was warm in its approval of Senator Shields.

There was considerable discussion of the resolution on the floor, but it was the general consensus of opinion that no declaration of partisanship was advisable, especially after the resolution which was adopted some weeks ago by the local Trades and Labor council. This resolution, which was passed after a committee had been sent to Nashville to investigate, stated that the local labor council in no way held Gov. Rye to blame for his action in sending state rangers here during the textile strike, inasmuch as the seriousness of the situation had been exaggerated in requests made of him by the local police department and manufacturers. In connection with this, there was read at the meeting a letter from Chief of Police Hackett, in which he endeavored to explain his action in accompanying a body of local manufacturers to Nashville to request the governor to send a detachment of state rangers here. The letter said that he had declared he had the situation well in hand in the city limits, but that the conditions outside the city were more serious and would have to be taken care of. It is said that the letter was received unfavorably, hisses and cat-calls expressing the sentiment of the meeting concerning it.

Union officials said that it was the desire of the central organization to remain neutral in the case and that, while supporters of each candidate were among the local unions, the Trades and Labor council had declined to show any official partisanship whatever. They further said that the resolution concerning Gov. Rye would not have been passed if the executive had not been attacked and if they had not felt it a matter of simple justice to show that they entertained no animosity against him because of his action during the strike. They emphatically stated that they did not wish to be considered as taking sides politically.
